About Akuter

Incorporated in August 2000, Akuter, Inc. (Akuter) addresses the worldwide Web-Based learning market for small and medium businesses. Akuter targets particularly the need for compliance and certification-driven industries that have to comply with numerous national and international regulations as well as to communicate a positive image to very diverse audiences. Akuter has developed Akuter Enterprise, integrated enterprise software that simplifies the production, management and publishing of a company's knowledge, communication and know-how. Akuter's customers can redefine and organize their own communication strategy and build a genuine competitive advantage. In the application fields mentioned earlier, they can considerably reduce the costs of compliance for their employees and their industrial and commercial partners. An automated alert system enables competency gaps to be anticipated and reduces the risk of not complying.
